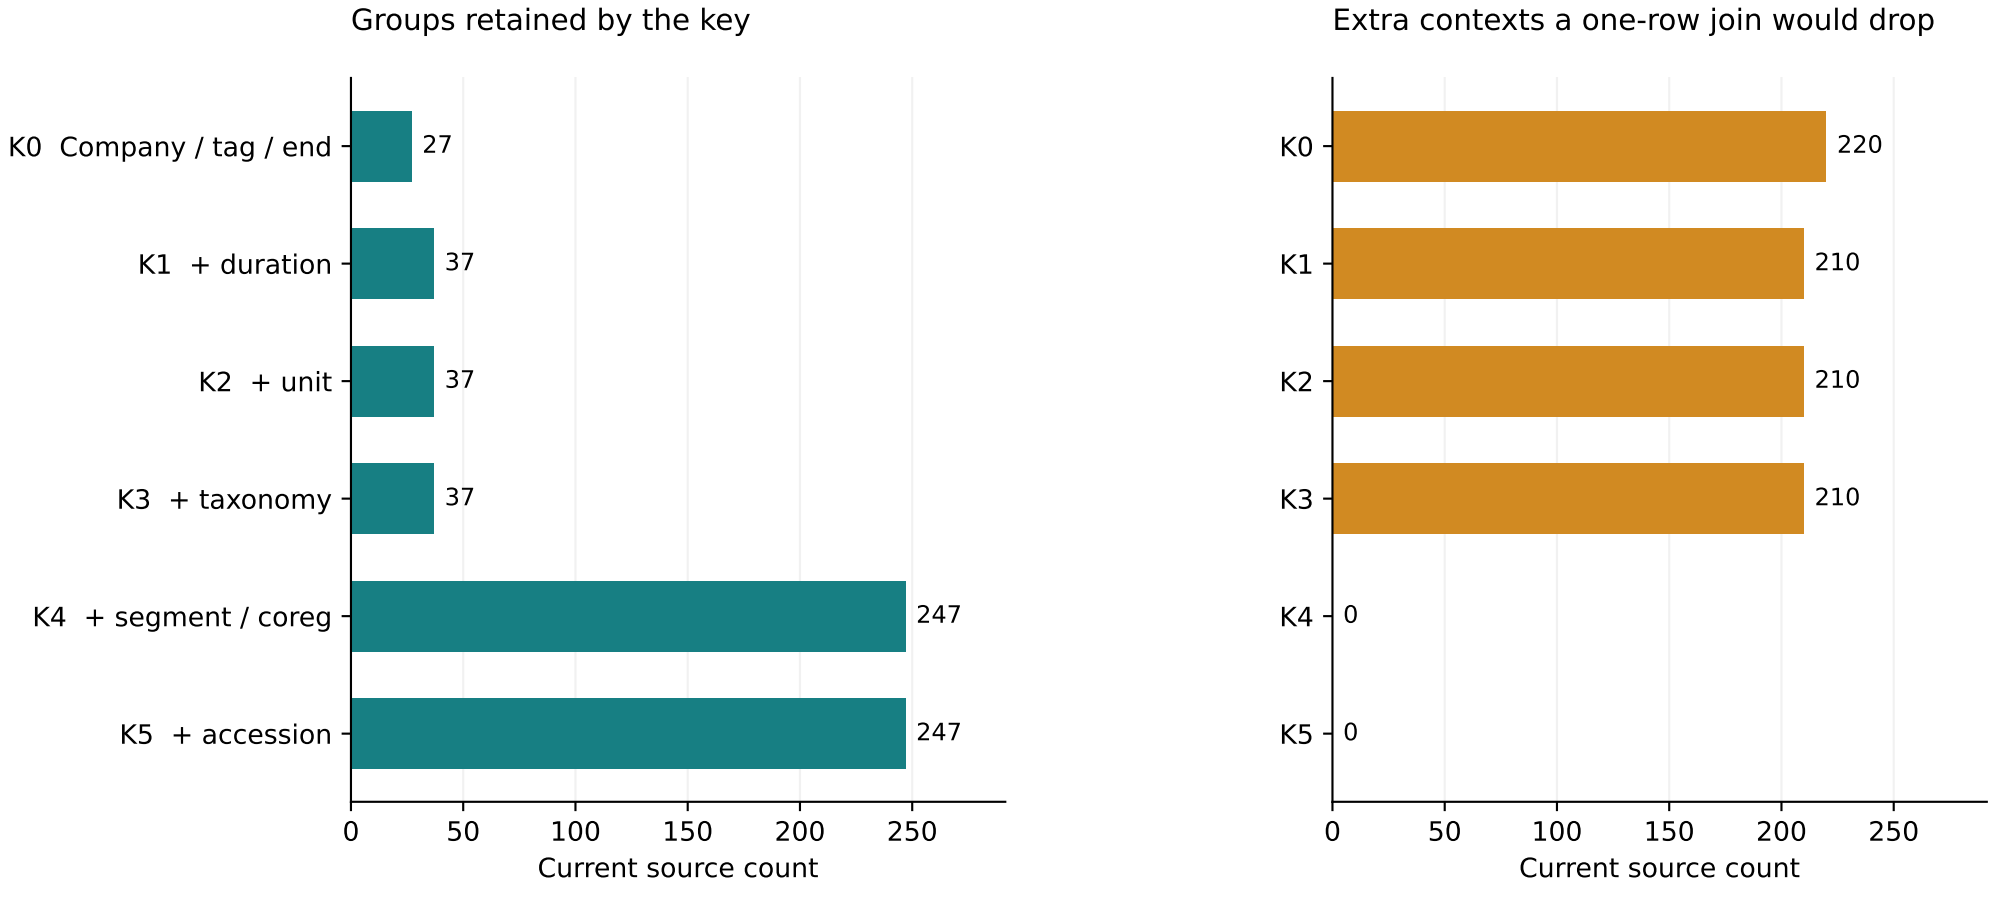
A short financial key drops distinct source contexts

247 source facts stay fixed; all six declared key specifications are retained



K4 matches the full key in this cohort because each company has one selected accession; accession remains part of source identity.